

American Seed Trade Association

Membership Application

Our Mission

ASTA's mission is to be an effective voice of action in all matters concerning the development, marketing and free movement of seed, associated products and services throughout the world with a minimum of regulation. ASTA promotes the development of better seed to produce better crops for a better quality of life.

What We Do

ASTA, directed by its members, is involved in nearly all issues relating to plant germplasm, focusing on three areas of industry importance: regulatory and legislative matters at international, national, and state levels; new technologies impacting all crop species; and communication and education of members and appropriate public audiences regarding science and policy issues affecting the seed industry.

Membership Profile

ASTA has over 700 member companies. ASTA values and promotes diversity of membership, in terms of company size, products and geographic area served. Each active member is given one vote, regardless of size.

Leadership

ASTA is driven by its membership, which is represented by a Board of Directors comprised of a 15-member Executive Committee, all living past-presidents of the association, division directors, chairs of the International and Legislative & Legal Concerns Committees, and ASTA Representatives to the Canadian Seed Trade Association and Mexican Seed Trade Association.

Membership Classification

Please choose one category in which you are applying for membership.

Active Members

Eligibility: Firms engaged in transactions involving seed research, development, growing or selling for planting purposes and technology delivered in or on the seed, which in these transactions acts as principals to take title to the same, shall be classified as active seed members.

Definition of sales

Active Member dues are based on the average sales of planting seed from the previous three years, including the value of:

1. Seed and technology delivered in or on the seed sold in the U.S.
2. Seed and technology delivered in or on U.S. exported seed.
3. Seed and technology transferred from the U.S. to affiliate companies (whether wholly- or partially-owned or under common ownership) located in other countries.
4. Royalties or other income received as a result of licensing or sale to others of seeds or technology delivered in or on the seed.
5. Income received from contracting for, producing and/or conditioning seed for others.

"Sales" as defined above shall further include the total amount of "sales" of all business entities under common ownership (whether such entities are incorporated or not and whether they are independently managed or not), unless a business entity under common ownership in its own right and pays dues based on the value of its own "sales," provided; however, that the balance of the entity must also maintain its own membership, if it has any additional "sales" as defined above.
